

A New Beginning for Lutherans in North America

You are invited to join Lutherans from throughout North America August 26-27 in shaping a common future for Confessional Lutherans in North America — a future that is Christ-Centered, Mission-Driven, Traditionally-Grounded, and Congregationally-Focused.

Lutheran CORE's 2010 Convocation will consider proposals for the creation of the North American Lutheran Church and for the ongoing ministry of Lutheran CORE as a Community of Confessing Lutherans regardless of their church body affiliation. The Convocation will take place in a church building that seats 3,000 people to enable as many Lutherans as possible to be a part of this historic event.

Lutheran CORE's 2009 Convocation asked that a proposal for the "reconfiguration of North American Lutheranism" be prepared and brought to the 2010 Convocation. In response, "A Vision and Plan for The North American Lutheran Church and Lutheran CORE, a Community of Confessing Lutherans" was prepared. The proposal and documents for the Convocation will be posted online as they are available at www.lutherancore.org.

To vote at the Convocation, an individual must be a member of Lutheran CORE or one of its constituent organizations, and must accept the Constitution of Lutheran CORE. You may join Lutheran CORE by completing the online membership form or call the office to have a form mailed to you.

The Convocation will be preceded by a significant theological conference August 24-26 under the theme, "Seeking New Directions for Lutheranism," featuring some of the most respected Lutheran scholars and theologians in America.
